The Buyers and Suppliers Connection

For today's buyer's, multiple price quotes are ESSENTIAL. Our service is geared to quickly understand the needs and arrange the best suited options to be delivered directly, giving buyers a full range of pricing, branding, timing and more.

With suppliers who need to achieve new targets all the time we are proud to enhance the sales success of companies ranging from small, local businesses to nationally-known market leaders. Our marketing services are customizable, quick to implement, and ROI (return on investment) - focused.

Working throughout Southern Africa, our registered suppliers receive sales opportunities suited to their unique company structure, weather able to offer International, National or local services, targeted for high, low or medium level businesses and more.

Quality Quotes is a unique business to business solution, developed to save companies and individuals invaluable amounts of time; by providing the broadest and most comprehensive selection of major services to choose from. It works to find the most essential information required before direct quotations can be provided. These forms necessitate questions like time, budget, quantity, location of delivery and contact information. It also includes questions pertaining to extra or after sales services, and unique differences in each particular product or service.
